76 THE JOURNAL OF THE MADRAS MUSIC ACADEMY [VOL LXIII

It is a record of life of 120 years of light, love and laour. He is the first that History or tradition records of a personality entering the Brindaban alive. Great scholar as he was of Sanskrit, his love of Kannada knew no bounds. His Kirtanas composed for the joy and enlightenment of the masses will live for ever as embodiments of all that is high and noble in our religion in melodic forms of exquisite beauty. Jagannathadasa's Kirtana "Vadiraja" in Purvi, in Adi tala is a glowing tribute to his merit as saint and composer.

SRI PURANDARADAS

The personality of Sri Purandaradas is the greatest that a combination of spirituality art and culture has produced. In renouncing the world for dedecating himself to God he made the heaviest sacrifice by giving up his untold wealth. In music his achievements are so vast and amagnificent that the resultsof the efforts of all other composers put together cannot equal a fraction of his work. His compositions number 4,75,000 and more, each with numerous charanas and would in all be many times the length of the Ramayana and Mahabharata put together and would fill the pages of a thousand volumes. In the realm of music his services are precious beyond estimate. He is the father of the Karnatic system of music which stands unparalleled as the most evolved system of music in the world. His compositions range from the simplest svaravalis and gitas to the elaborate and complex Suladis. His synthesis of Sahityakshara and svara raga laya is the very acme of perfection. His language is poetic beyond description adorned with rich imagery and pithy sayings. His parables and allegorical utterances have all the fascination and depth of the scriptures. As a teacher of mankind inculcating the greatest truths of Hindu Dharma he is second to none. He pursued his gentle methods of instruction through the most attractive and congenial channels of music. India, nay the world has not produced a greater composer
