A deer drive is usually made up of five to ten hunters Most of the deer hunters make a long line in the woods and slowly walk through the woods, driving deer towards one or two hunters who are in position at the other end of the woods.. When a buck goes walking or running by, the hunter shoots the deer In some cases, shooters are placed on the sides and in front.. A deer drive is like hunting pheasants with a group of hunters; the difference is they are hunting deer, not pheasants.. They usually know where deer bedding areas are located
